

Your visit to NOTTINGHAM PLAYHOUSE

We hope you are looking forward to visiting Nottingham Playhouse. Here is an introduction to the building to help you prepare.

Nottingham Playhouse is a theatre in Nottingham. Here is a picture of what the building looks like from outside:

When you arrive, you will see the Box Office. The Box Office team will help you with any questions, and can help you book your tickets.

Here is a picture of Box Office:

When you arrive, you can visit our Bar. This is where you will find the nearest toilet, can find somewhere to sit, and buy drinks.

Here is a picture of the Bar:

The Main Stage auditorium is where the audience sits to watch shows. There are two different levels. The lower level is called the Stalls. The upper level is called the Circle. You can access both by stairs, and you can access the Stalls by our lift.

The Neville Studio is another space where shows take place. You can get access to the Neville Studio using the stairs or by the lift. You will cross a small patio before entering the studio.

We look forward to welcoming you!